

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

ANNUAL REPORT

ON

HARVARD UNIVERSITY.

1831 – 32.

SEVENTH

OF THE

PRESIDENT OF HARVARD UNIVERSITY

TO

THE OVERSEERS

ON

THE STATE OF THE INSTITUTION,

1831 – 32.

CAMBRIDGE:
E. W. METCALF AND COMPANY,
Printers to the University.
1833.

To the Honorable and Reverend, the Board of Overseers of Harvard University.

The President of this Seminary, in conformity with the directions of the Board, respectfully

REPORTS,

THAT the general state of the Seminary during the past academic year has been satisfactory.

The plan of studies and the principles of recitation and examination, as explained in former Reports, have been pursued, on the part of the Instructors, with great fidelity, and on that of the Students, with very general attention and success.

The conduct of the Students has been for the most part regular and orderly. Whatever exceptions there have been to this general statement, will be found detailed in the Appendix to this Report.

Dr. Hedge, who for many years has instructed in different departments of the University with exemplary diligence and fidelity, having, in consequence of ill health, resigned the office of Alford Professor of Natural Religion, Moral Philosophy, and Civil Polity, Joel Giles, A. B., was appointed Tutor, and charged, temporarily, with the instruction in that department, and has conducted it with assiduity and ability.

It is for the Overseers, for the public, for statesmen, and men of letters to reflect, with what feelings they will look back upon its destruction, should it occur, when, in addition to the regret for its then keenly realized loss, shall be added the consciousness, that this has not occurred without frequent and reiterated warnings, and that there was nothing, either in the state of private or public prosperity, at the present time, to apologize for that indifference, with which its great intrinsic value has been viewed, and for that apathy, with which its known hazards have been permitted to continue and accumulate.

All which is respectfully submitted by

JOSIAH QUINCY, { President of
Harvard University.

Cambridge, 10 January, 1833.

APPENDIX.

A.

DEPARTMENT OF THEOLOGY.

THIS, during the past year, has been exclusively under the superintendence of the Rev. Henry Ware, D. D., Hollis Professor of Divinity.

This branch was pursued in the first term of the Junior year, on Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Saturdays, from X to XII, A. M. This extended through the first term, the Class being heard in Divisions an hour each, and was continued through the first four weeks of the second term.

In the first term, the study of Paley's Evidences of Christianity commenced, and was pursued in recitations, three hours per week, by lessons of about ten pages each, until the beginning of November, by which time the book was finished. The class then entered upon the study of Butler's Analogy; the first part of which was finished by the end of the second week of the second term. About two weeks of the second term were occupied by this Class in reviewing Paley and Butler, after which, instruction in the branch closed for the Junior year.

In the second term, the Seniors commenced this branch; and Lectures on the New Testament were given to the whole Class by the Professor three times a week, viz. on Mondays, Tuesdays, and Wednesdays, for one hour each day at an hour before the prayer-bell in the afternoon. The exercise included Questions on the Lecture.

Instruction in this branch closed with this term.— Besides the duties above enumerated, Dr. Ware performs the Chapel morning and evening services alternately with the Rev. Henry Ware, jun. The Sabbath services are performed one half by him, and the other half by the Rev. Henry Ware, jun. and the Rev. John Gorham Palfrey.

B.

DEPARTMENT OF INTELLECTUAL AND MORAL PHILOSOPHY, CIVIL POLITY, AND POLITICAL ECONOMY.

The Alford Professorship of Natural Religion, Moral Philosophy, and Civil Polity having become vacant in consequence of the resignation of Levi Hedge, LL. D., that department has been conducted satisfactorily by Joel Giles, A. B., Tutor in Natural, Intellectual, and Moral Philosophy.

Instruction in this branch was conducted through studies and recitations in Stewart's Elements of the Philosophy of the Mind; Paley's Moral Philosophy; Brown's Philosophy of the Human Mind, abridged by Dr. Hedge; Say's Political Economy; and Rawle on the Constitution of the United States.

These studies commenced with the Junior year, in Stewart's Elements; the first volume of which the Class finished about the middle of October. After this they entered upon Paley's Moral Philosophy, which they finished by the end of the first term. After the end of the first term, the Juniors did not recite in these branches during that year.

Junior Year.

Instruction commenced with the first term, the Class being heard in Divisions;

1st Division, after Prayers, A. M.

2d do. at Study Bell, do.

every day in the week, to the end of the term.

Forensics every other week, on Friday, alternating with the Seniors.

In the Senior year instruction in this branch was recommenced, with Brown's Treatise on the Mind. Both volumes of this work were finished by the sixth or seventh week of the second term. The Class then entered upon Say's Political Economy, which was finished by about the eighth week in the third term. Rawle on the Constitution then succeeded in the course, and with it instruction in this branch ceased.

The Class were taught in Divisions;

1st Division, at 2d hour before Prayers, P. M.

2d do. 1st do. do. do.

four days in the week.

In the second and third terms it was also taught in Divisions ;

1st Division, after Prayers, A. M.

2d do. at Study Bell, do.

six days in the week.

Forensics every other Friday, alternating with the Juniors.

C.

DEPARTMENT OF MATHEMATICS AND NATURAL PHILOSOPHY.

During the past year, in consequence of the absence of John Farrar, A. M., Hollis Professor of Mathematics and Natural Philosophy, on a voyage to Europe, for the restoration of his health, instruction in this department was placed under the superintendence of Benjamin Peirce, Tutor of Mathematics and Natural Philosophy ; assisted by Edward L. Cushing, Proctor.

Instruction in this branch commenced in the Freshman year, with recitations from the "Cambridge Mathematics," beginning with Plane Geometry, which was completed in the first term. To this the study of Algebra succeeded. This was finished by the end of the second term ; and by the end of the Freshman year, the Class finished the study of Solid Geometry.

Instruction was continued in the Sophomore year, by recitations in the Application of Algebra to Geometry ; to which Trigonometry succeeded, then Topography, and then Fluxions. With these, instruction in Pure Mathematics terminated, about the end of the Sophomore year.

To the above course of Pure Mathematics, succeeded instruction in Natural Philosophy, commencing with the second term of the Junior year ; this Class having no instruction in this department during the first term. The Juniors entered upon the study of Mechanics at the beginning, and finished it about the end, of the second term.

Instruction was given in this branch to the Junior Class in the third term : — 1. In Electricity. 2. In Magnetism. 3. In Electro-Magnetism. 4. In Optics.

Instruction in Natural Philosophy was continued, during the first term of the Senior Year, by recitations every morning in the week in Astronomy.

All the instruction in this branch terminated with the first term of the Senior year, with the exception of the lectures.

In the Freshman Year.

The Class was heard in Sections every day in the week, except Saturday, allowing one hour to each section.

1st and 3d Sections from 10 to 11.

2d and 4th " " 11 to 12.

1st and 3d on Fridays in the 2d hour before prayers.

2d and 4th " in the 1st " " "

Five hours a week (for 40 weeks) to each Student is $5 \times 40 = 200$ hours, and 200 lessons for the Freshman year.

The time required of Instructors is $4 \times 200 = 800$ hours.

In the Sophomore Year.

The Class was heard in Sections, four days in the week, viz. on Tuesdays, Thursdays, Fridays, and Saturdays, at the following hours, viz.

On Tuesdays and Thursdays.

1st and 3d Sections heard in the 2d hour before P. M. Prayers.

2d and 4th " " 1st hour " "

On Fridays.

1st and 3d Sections heard from 10 to 11, A. M.

2d and 4th " " 11 to 12 "

On Saturdays.

The whole Class at the Study Bell.

Four hours to each Student is $4 \times 40 = 160$ hours, or 160 lessons for the Sophomore year; occupying an hour for each Section.

The time required of Instructors is $14 \times 40 = 560$ hours.

In the Junior Year.

First term, no instruction in this branch.

Second and third terms.

1st and 3d Sections after A. M. Prayers, $\frac{2}{3}$ hour.

2d and 4th " " " " $\frac{2}{3}$ "

viz. 4 hours for each Section or Student $\times 25 = 100$ hours, or 150 lessons.

Time required of Instructors $4 \times 100 = 400$.

In the Senior Year.

Instruction in this branch ends with the first term.

Professor Farrar returned from Europe early in April, and gave all the lectures, in the course of the last term of the College year, which he had been usually required to give in the whole of it ; and the want of that portion of his labors, which consists in instruction, and which had been performed by others, was compensated by a voluntary relinquishment by him of an equivalent portion of his salary. His lectures were as follows :—

1. One lecture a week to the Senior Class on Astronomy during the term ; besides a number of evening lectures on the same subject.

2. Four lectures a week to the Junior Class, in Natural and Experimental Philosophy during the term.

The time occupied in these lectures being usually an hour.

D.

DEPARTMENT OF RHETORIC AND ORATORY.

This is, at present, under the superintendence of Edward T. Channing, A. M., Boylston Professor of Rhetoric and Oratory ; assisted in the latter by Jonathan Barber, M. D.

Instruction in reading and declamation was given to the Freshman Class, every day in the week through the first half of the year by Dr. Barber ; the Class being heard by sections. Two sections attending every alternate week, after morning prayers. Each section having three exercises in reading or declamation every week. In the latter half of the year it was thought that Dr. Barber's services might be more advantageously directed to the Senior and Junior Classes, and they were accordingly so applied.

In the Sophomore year, the Class, under the instruction of the Professor, commenced Lowth's Grammar in the first term, and finished it in about nine weeks, at the rate of ten pages an exercise. To Lowth succeeded Blair's Lectures, which the Class finished in about twenty weeks, at the rate of one lecture an exercise. The study of Hedge's Logic followed. This was finished by the end of the year, at the rate of about twelve pages the lesson.

The Sophomores attended the Professor in the above studies on Mondays and Wednesdays from 10 to 12 A. M., and were heard in sections or divisions, as was most convenient ; and also attended with Themes at the Study Bell, from one to two hours, as was found necessary, every Saturday. The Class bringing in their Themes by divisions every week, a division each week, at the Study Bell.

In addition to the above the Professor attended to the hearing of the Sophomore Class in either reading or declamation one hour, two days in the week, after morning prayers ; one section attending every week ; each section having one exercise in reading or declamation every week.

In the Junior year instruction was given in this branch wholly through the medium of themes, lectures, readings, and declamations.

Themes were delivered in by this Class every other Friday (the intermediate Friday being reserved for Forensics) in the three hours preceding prayers in the afternoon. Declamations every Saturday forenoon, one hour.

Twelve lectures on Rhetoric were given in the third term of this year, on Tuesdays and Thursdays, at 9 o'clock; course unfinished.

Dr. Barber heard this Class either in reading or declamation in sections on four days of the week, an hour being given to each section.

In the Senior year this branch was conducted wholly through the medium of themes and declamations; each of which occupied a like time, and was conducted in the same manner by the respective instructors, as is above specified in relation to the Junior year. Declamations every Friday forenoon, one hour.

In the Sophomore, Junior, and Senior classes, each student delivered twenty themes each year; one for the examining committee.

In addition to the above Dr. Barber was engaged to deliver a public lecture to all the classes once a week on Elocution; which he did as frequently as was found expedient.

Time occupied by the Exercises under the care of the Professor.

E.

DEPARTMENT OF GREEK.

This is at present under the superintendence of the Rev. John S. Popkin, D. D., Eliot Professor of Greek Literature; and of Cornelius C. Felton, A. M., Professor of Greek and Permanent Tutor.

Instruction in Greek commences with the Freshman Class, in Dalzel's Collectanea Majora.

They recite, during that year, about 274 pages of volume first, and 80 pages of volume second. These they also review in the course of the year. Besides which they have a Sunday lesson, recited every Monday morning, of about five pages of Griesbach's New Testament, beginning with the Acts. On Saturday morning the Class are heard in Greek Grammar or Roman Antiquities.

Instruction in this branch is continued in the Sophomore year, commencing with Sophocles in the Collectanea; the second volume of which is finished, as also that part of the first volume, which was omitted in the Freshman year, with a review of all the lessons recited this year. In this year the recitations are all in the regular Classics.

Instruction, in this branch, in the Junior year, is continued with the Iliad, eleven or twelve books of which will probably be read and reviewed by the end of the second term. In the third term the Iliad will be continued and reviewed; or Demosthenes de Coronâ.

There is, between the studies of the Greek and Latin Languages, an alternation through the whole college course of instruction in those branches. Two sections recite one week in Latin while the others recite in Greek, and so alternately.

DEPARTMENT OF LATIN.

This is at present, and has been during the last year, under the superintendence of Charles Beck, P. D., Professor of the Latin language, assisted by Henry S. McKean, A. M., Tutor.

Instruction in this branch commenced, in the Freshman year, with Folsom's Selections from Livy. These were finished early in the second term. The study of Horace succeeded, and continued through the Freshman year. On Saturday morning, Adam's "Roman Antiquities" was recited by this Class.

1. The Sophomores began with the Historiæ of Tacitus. After having read and reviewed them, the Class took up the Excerpta from Quintilian and Cicero; all of the former and the larger portion of the latter were read and reviewed. One hour every week was devoted to the writing of Latin.

2. The Juniors commenced with the Satires of Juvenal, all of which were read and reviewed. Then the Annals of Tacitus followed, of which seven books were read and explained. During the last term the whole class attended four times every week.

DEPARTMENT OF CHEMISTRY, MINERALOGY, AND GEOLOGY.

This is at present under the superintendence of John W. Webster, M. D., Erving Professor of Chemistry and Mineralogy.

During the first, and part of the second term, the Erving Professor is occupied in giving lectures daily in the Medical School, to the medical students four months, including the winter vacation.

Instruction in Chemistry, at Cambridge, begins with the Juniors, as soon after the commencement of the second term as the Medical Lectures and Examinations for Medical Degrees close in Boston, and continues on Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Saturdays, at 10 o'clock, A. M., through the term, ending about the middle of the third term. The Seniors have liberty to attend.

The Seniors commence the study of Mineralogy in the third term, as soon as the Professor has finished Chemistry with the Juniors; attending at the 2d hour before the prayer-bell in the afternoon, and continue to the end of the term.

The instruction to the Juniors is given by lectures, and examinations with the text-book; an examination preceding each lecture. The time employed, being as much as the arrangements for other studies permit, is as follows:—

Second Term.

$$8 \text{ weeks} \times 3 \text{ lectures and examinations} = 24$$

Third Term.

$$6 \text{ weeks} \times 3 \text{ lectures and examinations} = 18$$

Of an hour each, — 42

Third Term.

During the remainder of this term instruction is given daily in Mineralogy and Geology by Lectures.

$$7 \text{ weeks} \times 5 \text{ lectures} = \quad - \quad - \quad 35$$

$$\text{Lectures and examinations} - \quad - \quad - \quad 77$$

In addition Dr. Webster gives Lectures to the Medical Class

H.

DEPARTMENT OF BOTANY AND ZOÖLOGY.

This is under the exclusive superintendence of Thomas Nuttall, A. M., Lecturer on Botany and Zoölogy, and Curator of the Botanical Garden.

Instruction in this department commences in the third term, in Smellie's Philosophy of Natural History, to the Senior Class. From twenty-two to twenty-four recitations are required. These are occasionally accompanied by short lectures, on Zoölogical subjects; occupying an hour in the morning or forenoon every day.

Voluntary lectures are also given to the Senior and Junior Classes, in the third term, three times a week.

I.

DEPARTMENT OF MODERN LANGUAGES.

This is at present under the superintendence of George Ticknor, A. M., Smith Professor of the French and Spanish Languages and Literature, and Professor of Belles Lettres; assisted by four instructors, viz. Francis Sales, Esq., Instructor in French and Spanish; Pietro Bachi, A. M., J. U. D., Instructor in Italian; Charles Follen, J. U. D., Professor of the German Language and Literature; and Francis M. J. Surault, Instructor in French.

The principles which regulate the study of the modern languages are these: 1. No student is compelled to study any one of them. 2. A student choosing to study any one, is bound to persevere; he is not permitted to quit the study until he has learnt the language. 3. Those, who enter upon the study of any language, are formed into sections, and carried forward according to their proficiency, without reference to the distinction of Classes. 4. The Instructors are paid only for one half their time, and the days of instruction are Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays.

The Recitations are held generally during study hours; or A. M. from Study Bell till 12 o'clock, and P. M. from 2 o'clock till prayers; but, to avoid interference with recitations in other branches, some sections have been heard from 12 to 1 o'clock, and some in the evening, during the past year.

Three things should be borne in mind, when considering the state of this department during the academical year of 1831 - 2.

1. Neither Freshmen nor Seniors attended in it, except as volunteers; that is, the Students pursuing the study of some language entirely beyond the regular course. The regular Students, therefore, were all either Sophomores or Juniors, who chose some Modern Language, as a substitute for other prescribed studies.

2. The Graduates attending on the instructions of this department, whose number is considerable, are not noted.

3. During the first term of the academical year, Professor Ticknor delivered, three times a week, a course of Lectures on the History and Criticism of Spanish Literature, to about 50 members of the two upper classes, besides graduates;—the course being voluntarily given on his part, and delivered during play-hours to such Juniors and Seniors as chose voluntarily to attend. These also are not noted in the Statements below.

First Statement.

Number of Undergraduates taught during each term; the languages in which they were instructed; and the proportions of regular Students and Volunteers.

	French.	Spanish.	Italian.	German.	Portuguese.	Volunteers.	Regular.	Total.
First Term	58	31	63	49	3	92	112	= 204
Second Term	83	39	43	54	1	112	108	= 220
Third Term	67	21	60	56	2	105	101	= 206

The system of volunteer study was begun in this department in 1826 with thirteen Students. The number of Students embracing it has constantly increased every year; and now exceeds the number of regular Students. The Teachers are particularly gratified with the proficiency of these volunteer Students.

Second Statement.

Examinations were held, at the end of each term, by the Committee of the Overseers, and there were passed as having learned French 8; Spanish 18; German 32; Italian 31; and Portuguese 2.

Punishments belonging to Offences of a high Class.

Trespasses having been committed on the College buildings which could not be permitted to pass without punishment, and the laws of the University not being sufficient for the detection of the offenders, the Faculty, with the approbation of the Corporation, directed the evidence in their possession to be laid before the Grand Jury. In consequence of which, disorders having occurred in the Chapel, chiefly in the Freshman Class, the matriculation of all concerned in them was revoked and the whole Class put under probation. In addition to which two were dismissed for one year, two suspended for six months, and one rusticated, for their participation in these disorders. The students, also, connected with the original trespasses having made a full confession, three of them were rusticated for two years, and one dismissed for one year. Besides which, two of this Class were taken from the College by their friends, on the suggestion of the Faculty, and two were refused matriculation for neglect of their studies and general idleness and inattention.

L.DIVINITY SCHOOL.

This is under the superintendence of
Rev. Henry Ware, D. D. Hollis Professor of Divinity ;
Rev. Henry Ware, Jun. A. M., Professor of Pulpit Eloquence and the Pastoral Care ; and

Rev. John G. Palfrey, A. M., Professor of Biblical Literature.

The course of instruction in the Divinity School occupies three years. The School consists of three classes ; the Junior, Middle, and Senior. Instruction is given by all the above named Professors in their several branches.

The Hollis Professor of Divinity attends exercises with each of the Classes through the year ; with the Junior Class, in the Evidences of Natural and Revealed Religion ; with the Middle Class, in Ecclesiastical History ; and with the Senior Class in Christian Theology.

The Professor of Pulpit Eloquence and the Pastoral Care gives instruction in the Composition and Delivery of Sermons, and the Duties of the Pastoral Office, to the Senior and Middle Classes, and in Elocution to the Junior Class.

The Professor of Biblical Literature gives instruction to each of the three Classes during the year in the Interpretation of the New Testament ; also, to the two higher classes in the Interpretation of the Old Testament, and to the Junior Class in Hebrew.

A religious service, with preaching, in which one of the Senior Class officiates, takes place once a week, and is attended by all the members of the School. Also, once a week there is an exercise in extemporaneous preaching, by the Students of the two higher Classes.

The present number of Students (December, 1832) is 32.

M.MEDICAL SCHOOL.

This is under the superintendence of James Jackson, M. D., Hersey Professor of the Theory and Practice of Physic.

John C. Warren, M. D., Hersey Professor of Anatomy and Surgery.

Walter Channing, M. D., Professor of Obstetrics and Medical Jurisprudence.

Jacob Bigelow, M. D., Professor of Materia Medica.

John W. Webster, M. D., Erving Professor of Chemistry and Mineralogy.

John Ware, M. D., Adjunct Professor of the Theory and Practice of Physic.

The Medical School is conducted by the abovenamed Professors at the Massachusetts Medical College in Mason street, Boston. The instruction is given by courses of lectures, delivered by each of the Professors; beginning annually on the third Wednesday in October, and continuing four months.

The number of lectures given in the respective courses, is as follows:—

Drs. Jackson and Ware give four lectures a week on the Theory and Practice of Medicine, amounting to	68
And two a week on Clinical Medicine	26
	94
Which are reduced by omissions on Christmas and Thanksgiving days	2
	92
Dr. Warren gives five lectures a week on Anatomy and Surgery, amounting to	85
One visit in a week, of two hours' length, at the Hospital, accompanied with Surgical Operations, and Clinical Remarks, amounting to	17
	102
Reduced by omissions on Christmas and Thanksgiving days	2
	100
Dr. Bigelow gives about	52
Dr. Channing gives about	60
Dr. Webster gives five lectures a week on Chemistry, amounting to	85
Reduced by omissions as above, &c.	4
	81
Total number of lectures given by the Medical Faculty annually, in all the branches taught in the School	385

The number of Students attending Medical Lectures this season (1831 - 32) is 80.

The above School is devoted exclusively to Medical Students, undergraduates not being permitted to attend.

Two courses of instruction in each branch are required to be attended by each student, in order to obtain a medical degree.

The school in general may be considered to be prosperous.

Besides the above lectures in the Medical School, there is given at Cambridge, by one of the Professors of the Theory, &c. to the undergraduates, a course of lectures on Hygiene, or the means of preserving health and prolonging life; consisting of seven lectures, beginning on the first Monday of the third term, at 11 o'clock, A. M., and continued daily (except on Saturday) as far as the stated exercises of the College permit.

Also a course of lectures on anatomy, by Dr. Warren, consisting of twenty-five lectures, beginning in April, and ending in May or June.

And a course on Chemistry by Dr. Webster, as per Table G.

N.

LAW SCHOOL.

This is under the superintendence of the Hon. Joseph Story, LL.D., Dane Professor of Law; and John Hooker Ashmun, A. M., Royall Professor of Law.

The course of instruction in the Law School is as follows:—

1. Lectures, by the Dane Professor of Law, on the Law of Nature and Nations, and on Chancery, Commercial, Civil, and Constitutional Law. Lectures, by the Royall Professor, on miscellaneous branches of the Common Law.

2. Reviews and examinations of the students in the Text Books. These are held four days in the week, and the time occupied by each varies from one to two hours for each class. The course of study embraces a selection of the best elementary works in each branch of the Law, and is intended to be completed in three years. The students are referred to a series of leading cases in the English and American Reports, and to a parallel course of reading, in addition to the prescribed course of study.

3. Moot Courts, for the arguing of questions of law. These are held every week, by one of the Professors; four of the students, in rotation, appear as counsel. They begin to take their turn at the commencement of the second year. They have extempore disputations and debates on legal and miscellaneous questions, as voluntary exercises.

4. Written dissertations on subjects connected with the course of study are occasionally rendered.

5. The students are instructed in the practice of the courts, in the making of writs, preparation of pleadings, and other legal instruments; and an opportunity is afforded for acquiring the routine of office practice.

TREASURER'S STATEMENT.

THE Treasurer herewith presents his annual statement of the pecuniary concerns of the College.

The account No. I. shows the whole amount of receipts and payments during the College year.

The account No. II. shows the actual income and expenditure for the general purposes of the College and the instruction of the Undergraduates.

The accounts No. III. are those undertaken for the especial accommodation of the Students.

The accounts No. IV. exhibit the state of the Law and Divinity Schools, and of the funds of the Professorship of Natural History and Rumford legacy.

The other accounts, together with the Trial Balance of the books, will, it is believed, present a clear view of the state of the College funds and property.

The Treasurer begs to state, that the income for the general purposes of the College has about equalled the expenditure, and a small addition has been made to the general stock account.

The income from the Law School is gradually extinguishing the balance against that account, and will leave that Department in possession of a valuable Library without cost to the College.

The founder of the present Law School, the Hon. Nathan Dane, has placed with the Corporation the sum of seven thousand dollars for the erection of a Law College. This edifice is nearly completed, and will be styled the "DANE LAW COLLEGE."

The income of the Divinity School from its permanent funds and other sources is about equal to the expenses, but the payment during the year of an appropriation of fifteen hundred dollars for books has lessened the capital to that extent.

The fund for the professorship of Natural History was placed last year under the direction of the Corporation of the College together with the Presidents of the Medical College and of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences. The payment of some arrearages and necessary repairs in the Botanic Garden has required an extra expenditure of about four hundred dollars. As this fund is charged with the whole expense of the Establishment, it will, with the strictest economy, continue to diminish, and the support of the garden will ultimately become a charge on the general funds of the College. It is important that something should be done for the preservation and increase of this valuable part of the College property.

The demands on the Treasury during the coming year are likely to absorb its receipts, but the Treasurer has no reason to doubt that the income will at least be equal to the expenses.

Which is respectfully submitted.

T. W. WARD, Treas. Harv. Coll.

Harvard College, October, 1832.
